Unless specified, quoted prices include GST, labour & materials.

The price quoted is to insulated the specified square meters of the building. It is not a quote per square meter of product used. At no time will we enter discussions to alter quotes or invoices to a per square meter of product basis.

Areas which cannot be accessed at the time of installation will be deducted at the square metre rate. IE if a 14 meter square area cannot be insulated, 14 m2 will be deducted from the final invoice.

All site measure measurements are based on the external dimensions of the property.

Payment terms are strictly 7 days from the date of invoice. Outstanding amounts over 30 days will incur debt collection fees and interest is charged at 24% per annum until the amount is cleared. Additional debt collection fees will be incurred and added to the balance owed.

Payment can be made by bank transfer or Credit Card. We accept Visa and MasterCard options. Credit Card

Payment incurs a 2% administration fee.

We do not accept cash due to the risks and handling costs involved.

Why choose EIG - The Insulation Warehouse and Elite Insulation?

The EIG brands, The Insulation Warehouse and Elite Insulation have been around since 2005 and are proudly Kiwi owned and operated.

You can count on some good things when you engage us. For example:

- We don't require a deposit, and we won't charge you for the work until it's completed to your satisfaction.
- You get a thorough and accurate quote, which means no nasty surprises at invoicing time because we "missed" something.
- Your quote shows exactly what work's being done, the materials to be used, the measurements of the area being insulated, and any discounts that apply.
- We do thorough and professional work. In our view, the only place cowboys belong is in cowboy movies. We don't hire 'em, and we don't admire 'em either. We give you a 5 year workmanship guarantee on top of the backing from all of our NZ based suppliers.
- We have a team of 10 employees (no contractors allowed!) ready to get to work for you. When you say "go", we get cracking!

What next?

Our team is primed and ready to get to work! If you're happy with our advice and quote, let us know and we'll book a date to get the work done. How exciting!

If you'd prefer not to go ahead, please let us know. Your feedback is invaluable, especially if, for whatever reason, you choose not to use us, as it helps us constantly lift our game.
